WHY ANGER SHORTNESS THE EYE

When we are pleased the pupils are strong, when we are displeased weak. The same thing holds true in breathing. If an experienced place and we breathe more deeply if we are pleased less deeply. In joy we breathe in great breaths in sorrow our breathing is short and weak. When we are pleased we are strong, muscularly we can put out more strength than when we are displeased. We feel stronger and are stronger than usual when we are angry and lively eyes (pleasant eyes) give us down in the eyes as we are physically weaker than ever

Thus Dr. L. D. Vincent in his Primer of Psychology and his views are partly borne out by Dr.

Marion A. PERRY, the well known author of "The Boy Who Wasn't" His view is that every time we are angry our vitality shrinks so much in proportion for every outburst in fact Dr. Perry asserts that each hour of anger each rush of evil passion cuts off a certain portion of the life we should enjoy if it had not happened. "Every time a man gets angry," he says, "he shortens his life by so many minutes or days, perhaps years. A great deal depends on the intensity of the anger." Brooklyn, N.Y.

FAITH AND WORKS

If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture. Then shall love the neighbor as thyself ye do well. But if ye have respect to persons ye commit sin and are convinced of the law as transgressors. The whosoever shall keep the whole law and yet offend in one point he is guilty of all. For he that said Do not commit adultery said also Do not kill. Now if thou commit adultery yet if thou kill thou art guilty of a transgression of the law.

So speak ye and so do as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty. For he shall have judgment without mercy that hath showed no mercy and mercy is shown against judgment.

What doth it profit my brethren though a man may be rich in faith and have no works. Can faith save him? If a brother or a sister be naked and destitute of daily food and one of you say unto them Depart in peace be ye warmed and filled notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needed to the body what doth it profit. Even so faith if it hath not works is dead being alone.

Ye see a man may say. Thou hast faith and I have works show me thy faith without thy works and I will show thee my faith by my works. Thou believest that there is one God; thou dost well the devils also believe and tremble.—James 2:14-26

HOW ABOUT THE POLA TAX?

It often happens that a man thinks he has a poll tax receipt when he really has no sign of one. For years and years everybody paid their poll taxes when they paid other taxes but that has not been of the same receipt in eleven years, but you will still find men who think they paid it when they did the other or pretend to think so.

There are but a few more days to pay the poll tax and politics coming right on us.

After the first of February it will be too late to take the matter up then with the tax collector. The time to attend to it is now.

Some may be of the opinion that they have a receipt in their safety place and if they are not absolutely sure they should make a search. Now is the time to remedy it. The election managers cannot help you when you go to vote if you need it and have no evidence that you have paid it.

A street car conductor of Pensacola gives Senator Tamm some thing that the senate committee is slow to give. This man gives him a clean bill and says that he was a whitey square man when he was conductor on a street car in Chicago back in the days when he was shamefully working himself up. You know such could happen to a man in green or twenty years as precisely when he is playing the game of politics.

HIGH LIVING

In discussing high cost of living a writer some time ago expressed it rather aptly by referring to it as the cost of living.

There is a difference and there is a reason also and it isn't Postum.

One of the reasons that it costs more to live now than it did fifteen and twenty years ago is because we would not put up with the quality of stuff we bought then.

Many of the men who bought $1.00 head one twenty years ago would insult the clerk who shows them that class of stuff now. You can buy a suit of clothes for $1.50 and some few people are buying them but not many. They are as good now for the money it cost better then the suits of fifteen and twenty years ago.

The man who wears it now pants and brogue shoes. Not complaining that these goods were introduced recently they are as well made as they ever were.

The sales who bought her sheet

ing homespun, bed ticking, calico, a few years ago last complaining at the advance in this class of goods. Buggies and wagons are bringing more than they formerly did but the grade is better. You don't call for the same kind you once did, but you can still get it, if you insist.

Prices are bringing much higher prices than they once did which is probably due to people trying to get rich raising cotton instead of mules. When the cotton fell sets to raising mules, they will be cheaper if that is any consolation.

Taking it year for year from the high cost of living, is really due to the cost of high living.

Most items that have increased in price are items that had a corresponding increase in value—grade.

The man who once couldn't afford to sweeten his coffee with sugar now he is taking ice tea regularly. He plunged around in a road cart and now rides in a rubber tire car or an automobile. He chewed tobacco that cost him 35 cents per pound and now smokes it in the full at 75 cents but can buy the old grade at the old price.

The townsman who once bagged for the fish wagons from the bay for a change now runs a regular account at the market and buys the choicest cuts and eats country made sausage in season.

It is largely a question of increased demand for higher grade of merchandise.

It is a fact that you can't buy as big a load of wood for a dollar that you once could but many people need fuel, coal instead and the demand for wood isn't what it once was and few people who cut wood and haul it to town for a living.

If we live for a year as we lived fifteen years ago spending no more foolishly making no extravagant purchases we will find that the expense account will draw up.

A writer in the Birmingham News has suggested that whenever a letter goes out from the Jones Valley town the words "UNDERWOOD'S TOWN" should be written at the bottom in red ink. That is a good suggestion, but it will not do for the habit to spread of telling the public whose town that is.

A little Atlanta girl was killed the other day by one of her playmates with a snow ball. We have boys in the town big enough to pluck any interesting game on the second side, who have never thrown a snow ball. To say that a boy has never thrown a snow ball is to say that the boy has never seen one.

FOR THOSE WHO LIKE HEAVILY SEASONED FOOD.

Is Agreeable and Appetizing When the Palate Becomes Tired of the Ordinary American Cooking.

Stew—Place out up chick pot and add two chopped clove and two chopped onions, salt and a little water. Let cook slowly till half done and add fat pork grease and let cook till tender. Melt one large tablespoon butter in frying pan, add a tablespoon and a half of chili powder. Cook a moment, stirring so as not to burn, then add half a can of tomatoes and some water if too thick. Season with salt pepper, sage thyme and marjoram. Add this sauce to chick and be careful not to let burn. Peas—Make the above sauce and drop the peas in sauce and let as you would in water, but serve with the eggs. Eggs—Melt large tablespoon butter in deep sided frying pan, add one large chopped clove, garlic, one large chopped onion and a cup of washed rice. Keep stirring till rice is slightly browned and crisp. Then add one chopped tomato, salt and fill pan to top with boiling water. Cover loosely and cook slowly till rice is tender. Meat—Uncover and let cook till dry. Cook grain will be separate. Do not stir after adding water till ready to serve. Beans—Boil pink beans in plenty of water till soft. Set aside in cool place. Melt a tablespoon of butter in pan (grate in beef), add a little chopped onion and beans. Mash with back of spoon and add some of the bean juice and salt and pepper. Stir occasionally strain through cheesecloth or fine strainer into lard can and when cool cover. Much nicer than butter, for frying and keeps in definitely.

Good Poultry.

A young chicken is known by an upstanding of pinfeathers soft feet, smooth skin on legs below the joint and a soft cartilage at the point of the breastbone. The feet of old fowls are hard and covered with dry coarse scales, and the cartilage at the end of the breast bone has become ossified. Good fowls should be plump and the cartilage at the end of the breastbone should be soft and pliable. Turkeys should have smooth dark legs and the cartilage at the breast bone should be soft. Cook turkeys are usually better than the hen turkeys. Good geese abound in pinfeathers and should be plump with soft feet and pliable bills.—Dillmeater

AFTER A WITCHCAT

FAMILY LIES IN WAIT WITH SOLID GOLD BULLET.

"Max" Has Caused Various Kinds of Woe in Tumbling Run Valley and Can't Be Killed With Ordinary Ammunition.

At Tumbling Run valley near Potomac Pa. a family is lying in wait for a witchcat with a gun loaded with a solid gold bullet, and has also put a "witchcat-eating cat" on the trail of the "beast" or witchcat. This witchcat appeared at the home of Howell Thomas some weeks ago. It was always seen at four o'clock in the morning prowling around the barnyard and it is said to have grown until it was four feet long. It is asserted that the beast began crowling like roosters and the pigs barking like dogs and this first evidence that something was wrong was followed by horses cattle poultry and even people piling away and dying.

The climax came when Howell Thomas himself died. Two daughters were left—one a spinster the other married. The former charged the latter with having put the beast which came on the property and at the funeral the two had a grievous clash for the unmarried sister tried to get from the house the married "witch-sender."

The Thomases had been shooting at the "beast" and though their aim ordinarily was good they seemingly could not hit the strange cat. After her father's death Miss Thomas held a conference with an unknown witch doctor and announced that it had been revealed that the reason the bullets had not been effective was because they were lead. She followed directions and molded a solid gold bullet out of a five-dollar gold piece. But when the magic bullet was in the gun ready for use the cat failed to reappear. Miss Thomas and the neighbors have lain in wait for the "beast" but all in vain. Some declare its absence due to the fact that too many people have been wearing crucifixes and talismans to protect themselves. The affair became so mysterious that the Potomac Republic editorially asked a complete investigation.

The latest turn to the mysterious case however, is the most interesting of all. A black cat owned by a Schuylkill Haven man has been found by the witch doctors to be a hex-hemeron cat. This cat is said to have been born on the 6th day of the sixth month in 1908 and to have been one of a litter of six kittens. It was blind only six days after being born whereas all ordinary cats are blind nine days. The word hex-hemeron is taken from two Greek words "hex" and "hemera" and means a completion in six parts. It is usually used in referring to the six days labor of Creation as described in the first chapter of Genesis. Little more are only five looks in Moses in the authorized Bible, the witch doctors declare their have the sixth book of Moyses. In this book the witch of Endor attributes full power to the hex-hemeron cat in warding off evil spells.

It was declared that the "beast" had beyond doubt an engagement with the evil one whereby it had been parted to its own imp or spirit. The Schuylkill Haven cat has never eaten anything but toads frogs lizards and serpents and the witch doctors agreed that its presence will restore the Thomas homestead to a normal condition.

Her Occupation

The junior member of the oil law firm of Goldsmith & Nelson 114a Hex & Johnson having used the phrase, a shining ornament of the Cincinnati bar in referring to some other lawyer. Mural Halstead seized upon the phrase and threatened him finally it fired to Mr. Johnson as the true ornament of the Cincinnati bar. At an evening gathering Mr. Halstead saw a handsome woman. He begged to be presented and it was to Mrs. Johnson. If it did occur to him who the lady might be. He was curious about her. Johnson John on he repeated. I have never in the place of a meeting you before Mrs. Johnson. Do you like to Obi? Oh yes replied the lady brimming over with smiles. I live in Cincinnati. In deed said Mr. Halstead quite astonished may I inquire of what family of Johnsons you are? The smiles were more than worry this time. Mr. Halstead also replied for fifteen years I have been trying to polish up the brass ornament of the Cincinnati bar.

A Deduction

"Look at that fellow Garberway" said Hicks. By George if ever any man was born with a silver spoon in his mouth he is the one. Think so? said Dubkins. Now I should have said looking at Garberway was a mistake that it must have been a gold-plated fork was born with."—Harper's Weekly.

The Main Reality

Critic—It is a fine pill. What is that play? And yet there is nothing real in it. Manager—Oh yes he is. There is real money in it.

Slight Accusation

"Johns drink like a fish." "That isn't against him. Fishes drink nothing but water."

OVERLAND

$900 Buys All You Need In An Automobile

This OVERLAND Model 59 at $900 is absolutely all any one would want in a car.

Compare it with any $1250 car on the market, and you'll find but little difference.

You know that most of the $1250 cars are of the 30-horse power type. This $900 car has a 30-horsepower motor. Seats five people comfortably. It is big and roomy. Has a staunch pressed steel frame, selective transmission with F & S annular bearings—the best made. Has strength, power and speed—more than you will ever care to use. The body design and finish is simple, graceful and beautiful. Upholstery is of good leather, hand stuffed with fine hair. In every respect it is a thoroughly high grade machine.

And it is a fact that no other maker in the business can build this car and sell it at this price without losing money. This is due to the enormous manufacturing facilities of the Overland Company—the largest in the world. The manufacturer who turns out but 5,000 cars must have greater production costs, for each car, than the Overland Company, who make over 20,000 cars.

They have published a very interesting and simply written book which explains why the largest automobile factory in the world can give more for less money than the small factory. Stop in and get a copy. It will show you how to save money when you buy your car. SPECIAL MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

ENGINEERS AND FOUR PASSENGERS ARE KILLED

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 12.—(Engineer William Clark, of Macon, Ga., a negro porter and three negro passengers; two of them women, were killed in a wreck at Joppatown, Ga., twenty miles south of Atlanta, at an early hour this morning when the South Atlantic Limited, handled by the Central of Georgia Railway between here and Macon, collided with a freight train.

Baggage-master Puckett of Atlanta was slightly injured. Reports from the wreck are to the effect that none of the white passengers were seriously injured, though a number sustained cuts and bruises.

The South Atlantic Limited is operated between Cincinnati and Jacksonville, Fla., by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and at Atlanta, Savannah cars of the Central are added to the train, when it takes the Central of Georgia tracks. No official statement as to the cause of the wreck has been made. A relief train carrying physicians, was sent to the scene.

A WHOLESALE BLOW UP PLANNED BY McNAMARA

Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—Orin McNamara's assertion that J. J. McNamara just before dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building had planned to have six or eight men stationed about the country to blow up places on a wholesale basis, was investigated by the federal grand jury today, and several men, who, it is alleged received proposals from McNamara during 1918, when twelve explosions occurred, were examined.

THE NEW CONDITION.

As the completion of the Panama Canal approaches we see evidences of great changes that must take place in the Gulf states. Great aggregations of capital are seizing every opportunity to exploit the country and out of which they will make millions. Large areas of virgin forests, and every available and valuable water power site is being bought up and by foreign capital in Alabama and Georgia the water power sites of our rivers are being bought up so that they will be placed out of the reach of others and at the same time in the reach of capital when it can be invested to the greatest advantage.

Over in Georgia a great number of sites have been bought and four-time water power sites have been bought in Alabama a number of which are on the Coosa river.

These are only the beginning of what is to come. For centuries the Gulf coast has lain idle and neglected, but now the eye of the world is being turned on us. Our country is in a changed state a few brief years the old condition will have passed away and a new era with new conditions and strange people are to be our portion. Let every man keep his eyes open not to let but to watch direct his own interest.—Orrin Stur.

As a remedy for a torpid liver and biliousness has more than met its match in Dousson's Liver Tonic. It does not wash the liver on to perform its work at the cost of its strength.

Calomel depends for the power upon exciting the liver to do more work, and often the liver is too weak to stand such treatment and you are worse off than before.

Dousson's Liver Tonic cannot excite any of the dangerous effects that follow the use of calomel. It is entirely vegetable and pleasant to the taste and is suitable for children and grown people.

Get a 50c bottle at any drug store, or follow the directions that it does not hurt you that it is a perfect substitute for calomel to get your money back.

PRESENT GIVES MORSE THE HONOR

It is expected he will go to a local hospital and later go to New York then later to Carlisle. His condition permits.

Morse was finally brightened by the news of his commutation.

Washington, Jan. 12.—President Taft tonight commuted the fifteen-year sentence for violation of the Federal banking laws under which Charles W. Morse, a New York banker and leader, served two years in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Ga. The commutation which gives Morse his complete freedom but which unlike a pardon does not restore his civil rights was granted upon recommendation of Attorney General Wickersham and Surgeon General James H. D. S.

According to the surgeon general's report Morse could not live one month longer in confinement and even at liberty probably not over six months.

The White House statement says: The President tonight commuted the sentence of Charles W. Morse to and of one. This action was taken upon the advice of the attorney general on reports from Surgeon General James H. D. S.

A careful review of these reports makes it clear to my mind that he is suffering from a combination of diseases due to degenerative changes which are incurable and progressive. The report shows that both the condition of the kidneys and heart are showing signs of decay.

In regard to the attack of cardiac dyspnea or heart block from which he suffered on the morning of the 15th instant as an unusual occurrence. In my opinion the probability of his survival for more than one month in confinement and in the event of his release and a commutation of sentence it is not probable that he will live as long as six months

Wife is Special Messenger.

Designated as a special messenger by the Attorney General's office. Mrs. Morse left Washington tonight for Atlanta, leaving her husband's commutation from the President.

I thank God, declared the woman. I could not have lived longer under the strain. Mr. Morse's life is almost ended and no one knows any sorrow or heart-ache. They tell me that he cannot last much longer, perhaps only long enough to allow us to take him to Carlisle and it is hard hard to think that his life should end in this manner.

I believe my husband innocent of any crime and I do not believe the judge meant this as a punishment for his alleged criminal action. I wish to drink every one who helped me in the struggle to obtain my husband's release and I thank Attorney General Wickersham and President Taft for their action today in giving me back my husband.

All efforts made for a complete pardon were unsuccessful, and under the law Morse could not be paroled until he had served five years. Recent efforts in his behalf developed the tale that his friends wished to take to Carlisle for treatment and tonight it was thought probable here that he would be let in about a week.

The commutation of Morse's sentence came at the end of the most unrelenting effort on the part of Mrs. Morse and the banker's friends. At most since the day the doors of his cell in Atlanta closed upon him Mrs. Morse and individual friends have besieged the department of justice and through it the White House for some relief from the sentence.

Mrs. Morse is now on a tour of a campaign among Senators and members of the House of Representatives and about some of the signatures of prominent men in a petition she had written in a husband's behalf.

During the last few months all efforts have been made by the President and the attorney general
